CONNECT SUICIDE POSTVENTION TRAINING

Promoting Healing and Reducing Risk After A Suicide

A suicide can have a devastating impact on a community. The shock and grief can ripple throughout the community affecting friends, coworkers, schools, and faith communities. Connect postvention training helps service providers respond in a coordinated and comprehensive way in the aftermath of a suicide. Since knowing someone who has died by suicide is one of the highest risk factors for suicide, postvention becomes an integral part of suicide prevention efforts. More than “just training”, Connect fosters relationship building and the exchange of resources among participants.

Who Should Attend? Key community providers who would be involved in implementing crisis plans or responding to a suicide death that impacts the community in Carroll County, Capital Region or the North Country.

Using a holistic, socio-ecological model, Connect examines suicide in the context of the individual, family, Village or Tribe, and society.

Please pre-register by Friday, 1/13/23. Email Susan Ward at sward@naminh.org with your title and name of your organization. A link will be sent to you.

*Some people may find this topic distressing. If you are interested in attending but have been affected by suicide or have any questions about this program, feel free to contact Susan Ward.

Training made possible with Funding and Support from the US Department of Health and Human Services Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) with Support from NAMI NH.
