

The Roles of Community Health Workers and Support Specialists during COVID-19

Course Description

Community Health Workers (CHWs) are exceedingly critical in addressing the social and economic consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic. This ECHO session will offer CHWs up-to-date information and support pertaining to their work with clients and patients during this time. Additionally, it will provide a forum to share questions, insights, and ideas with peers throughout the state related to the COVID-19 response. Developed in partnership with the NH CHW Coalition.

Who Should Attend

New Hampshire Community Health Workers including patient navigators, care coordinators, outreach workers, resource specialists, peer support workers, family support specialists and other similar roles.

Schedule

Sessions will be held every Tuesday from 9:00-10:00am EST starting April 21st through May 26th.
