

Women Matter!

5 Part Online Educational Series

Professional Development Opportunity

Starting
September 30, 2021

Self-paced monthly modules work with your busy schedule!

Incentive card and certificate
upon completion!

Earn up to 7.5 Continuing Education Credits!

(1.5 Continuing Education (CE) for each webinar through healththeknowledge.com at $7.50 per video.)

- Based on a leading educational series on women, Substance Use Disorder (SUD), and Neonatal Abstinence Syndrome (NAS) by SAMHSA and Advocates for Human Potential.
- Adapted for service providers in the North Country.
- Learn about best practices and effective approaches to supporting women at risk for/living with SUD/NAS.

This free series is for anyone who provides services to women of childbearing age at risk for/living with SUD in the North Country.

Click HERE to find out more.

Free and Easy Online Registration

<https://bit.ly/L2L-WomenMatter>

Questions?

Contact Jean Adie, Series Facilitator at jadie@nchnh.org

